Poor Record-Keeping Brings $10,000 Fine For Medical Center

Princeton Medical Center has been fined $10,000 for violations of the New Jersey Blood Bank Licensing Act and regulations related to it, according to New Jersey Department of Health spokesperson, Marilyn Riley.

"We sent the hospital a letter outlining the fine and the deficiencies in early June," noted Ms. Riley. "They were asked to submit a plan correcting these deficiencies, and they have done so. This plan was accepted today (June 19)."

The fine resulted from an inspection of the Medical Center's blood bank in April by New Jersey Department of Health officials. At that time, record-keeping deficiencies were discovered, including, according to Ms. Riley, "improper labeling of units, incomplete medical histories of donors, and lack of suitable records related to blood processing. Probably the most serious violation is the transfusion of blood units not clearly negative for transfusable diseases such as hepatitis, syphilis and AIDS.

"There is no cause for people to panic," she added. "The hospital has assured us that the units of blood were tested carefully. We just can't verify it, and we don't want to take any chances."

Joseph Bonanno, Medical Center executive vice president, affirmed that "There is no danger at all in reference to patients in the transferring of AIDS. We have verified no tainted blood given to anyone at the Medical Center that could result in their getting AIDS. We went back to all our records and verified this."

Mr. Bonanno added that the hospital has acted quickly to correct the deficiencies, and that "over the years, the Medical Center has been documented as running a good quality health institution,

Residents Will Have to Share Cost Of Bike Path on Cherry Hill Road

Princeton Township introduced a $7,500 bond ordinance to complete a bicycle path along a portion of Cherry Hill Road at its Monday night meeting.

The proposed 1,200-foot path would extend from Crestview Drive and connect with an existing bike path at the Transcontinental Pipeline.

During its work session, Committee discussed the cost ratio between the Township and the Cherry Hill Road residents whose property abuts the proposed path. The project is expected to cost an estimated $75,000, an amount to be divided between the Township and property owners. It was suggested that six residents pay 25 percent of the cost, and the Township 75 percent. Two other residents would have to assume the total cost of constructing the path across their land.

Because of the expense of the project, Mayor Kate Litvack recommended holding a special hearing for the involved property owners, at which time they could make their views known regarding the desirability of such a bike path. The Township is sending letters to each of the owners inviting them to attend a meeting.

A public hearing on the ordinance will be held July 9.

New Teachers' Contract Calls For Raises of 9.3% Next 3 Years

An agreement on a three-year teachers' contract has been reached by the Board of Education and the Princeton Regional Education Association (PREA), averting the threat of a possible job action or strike in September.

A settlement was reached in a bargaining session held on Monday. The teachers agreed to vote on the contract Tuesday afternoon, waiving the five-day period permitted them between an offer and a vote. This was done so that the vote could be held prior to the end of school.

"The teachers came out in large numbers and voted for the contract," said Ann Johnston, president of the PREA.

The School Board is expected to ratify the contract at its final meeting of the current school year, on Tuesday, June 26.

The 224 members of the Princeton Regional teaching staff will see increases of pay averaging 9.3 percent for the next three years. The first year's increase will be 9.7 percent, followed by 9.5 percent in the second year and 8.7 percent in the third year of the contract.

"The Board had hoped to have a signed contract with less of an increase," said Board President Joel Cooper, who also headed the negotiating team. "We are mindful of the burden on taxpayers of any undue increase and we are concerned about the impact of the Governor's school funding proposals. It therefore was crucial to the Board to negotiate a decreasing set of raises over the next few years so that we would be in position to handle the decrease in State aid."

Another strain on District finances due during the third year of the teachers' contract is the reopening of the considerably enlarged Johnson Park School.

Dr. Cooper pointed out that the terms of the three-year contract are the lowest set of teacher increases in Mercer County in some time — and the first, he believes, to dip below nine percent in the past five years.

He said, however, that the Board would have liked to have settled for less. "The teachers would have liked to settle for a lot more," he add-

Variance Is Requested For Six Apartments In Buildings on Leigh

Leigh Avenue residents — wondering for the past several years what will be done with the former Madhatter's restaurant — have now found out. Some have expressed concern with the plan, and are expected to be at the Township Zoning Board meeting next week to hear further details and state their case.

The Minshaw Corporation will ask for a use variance to create six apartments: four in the former restaurant building and two in the yellow stucco building to the right of the parking lot. The lot between the buildings will be used for resident parking.

Minshaw consists of Dwight Minton, CEO of Church & Dwight, and Bill Robertshaw, a longtime property owner in the John-Witherspoon neighborhood.

The Zoning Board will hear their request Wednesday night, June 27, at 8 p.m. in the Township municipal building.

The property is located in the R-9 zoning district, which does not permit apartments.

The application was sent to the Regional Planning Board's Use Variance Referral Committee for its recommendation.

Alexander Road Bridge Closing A New Test of Drivers' Patience

"We'll try to help as much as possible, but drivers are just going to have to be patient," advised Township Lt. Anthony Gaylord Tuesday, the day after the Alexander Road bridge was closed for repairs.

The bridge was closed shortly after 9 Monday. The closing caused evening rush-hour backups on Harrison Street and Washington Road that were exacerbated by a thunderstorm. Lt. Gaylord hopes the tie-ups will prove to be a first-day reaction.

Traffic Tuesday morning coming into Princeton on Washington Road and Harrison Street was "fairly light," he said. Because the barriers were not put in place until after the Monday morning traffic made it into Princeton, Lt. Gaylord theorizes that drivers using the Alexander Road bridge felt — mistakenly — that the bridge would not be closed that day. That combined with the rush of traffic trying to escape the storm that suddenly darkened the skies over Princeton caused traffic to back up as far as Nassau Street on Washington Road and as far as Hartley Avenue on Harrison Street.

"We'll keep an eye on traffic and assist if need be at Washington and Faculty and Washington and Alexander," Lt. Gaylord promised. The University, he said, was also going to help in getting its people on and off Faculty Road.

The closing is expected to last eight weeks, while the County replaces the bridge, built in the 1920s, with a temporary span that will support 20 tons. Currently, there is a two-ton limit on the bridge.

A permanent new bridge is scheduled to be built within the next five to seven years.

After years of overcoming the closed Harrison Street bridge, this eight-week inconvenience should prove to be no test for detour-hardened area drivers.

and this includes the pathology department.

"We are approved by the College of American Pathology (CAP), the Association of Blood Banks and the Food and Drug Administration."

He said that there was no problem with the quality of people at the Medical Center or with administration. "The issue was over an interpretation of deficiencies regarding our record keeping system."

Ms. Riley said that further inspection of the Medical Center's blood bank would follow acceptance of the correction plan. "Our main concern is to make sure the public health is protected and elaborate procedures must be followed to insure that. Record-keeping is important. It's the way by which we determine blood is processed safely."

ed. "Both sides are unhappy; therefore it is probably a pretty good contract."

The PREA also agreed to a set of "give backs" that will help offset the burden to the taxpayer," said Dr. Cooper. The hourly rate for summer work (time used for curriculum development, committee work, and teacher workshops) will be reduced. This may, in some cases, save the District as much as 19 percent.

Also, under the terms of the new contract, the District will no longer have to pay additional salary for teachers who are covering other staff members' classes during an unassigned period.

Dr. Cooper said that the PREA would have liked to obtain the average 10.2 increase in Mercer County, but noted that Princeton teachers are the highest paid in the County. Their average salary, for a ten-month year, is $43,636.

The School Board had hoped to specify the number of hours a teacher's work day should contain. This, however, proved to be a "tremendous red flag" for teachers, said Dr. Cooper, "who felt they were being treated unprofessionally."

The issue was withdrawn from the bargaining table, he said. "But we will be back with it next time."

Rather than defining a full day, the contract specifies how much pupil contact time teachers must have each day. In the case of the high school, this adds up to 4½ hours. Dr. Cooper noted, however, that this is not the job teachers do.

At the end of May, negotiations between the Board of Education and the teachers' union reached an impasse. Both sides called for a mediator. The mediator, however, was not able to meet with the parties until June 13.

There was one mediation session on Wednesday, June 13. The Board then called an emergency meeting Saturday to discuss its position. On Monday, the two sides met, without a mediator, and the settlement was reached.

Tentative Settlement On University Garage

A settlement committee of the Princeton Regional Planning Board and representatives of Princeton University have reached a tentative agreement regarding the construction of a parking garage on Prospect Street.

The Planning Board had voted last October against granting approval for the University's plan to build a five-story parking garage on a portion of a parking lot near the Engineering Quadrangle. Residents of Murray Place and Aiken Avenue had complained that the garage would increase traffic and diminish property values.

The University sued to protest that decision, and in late March Judge Paul G. Levy said the Planning Board had no right to deny the application because garages are permitted in the zone. Negotiating teams of the University and the Planning Board have been meeting in an effort to resolve the dispute.

———

"We are now at a point where those negotiating for the University and for the Planning Board have reached a tentative agreement," noted Robert Durkee, Princeton University's vice president for public affairs. "Assuming each of the parties represents the perspective of the parent bodies, we will reach a final agreement. It's been a very constructive experience on both sides," he added. "We seem to have come out at a reasonable place."

Gerald Mueller, attorney for the Planning Board, noted that the draft settlement agreement will be presented to the Planning Board in closed session at its June 21 meeting.

A public hearing on the issue is scheduled for June 27.

Franklin Residents Settle Property Damage Suit

Eighteen families who live or own property in Franklin Township along Georgetown-Franklin Turnpike (Route 518), in an area adjacent to the Higgins Farm Superfund site, have settled their lawsuit against Clifford Higgins, Higgins Disposal Service, Inc., and other defendants for an amount in excess of $770,000.

The residents claimed damages in the form of diminished property values owing to the discovery of pollutants on the nearby Higgins Farm, the loss of use of their wells for two years, and the stress and inconvenience associated with these factors.

In paying the settlement, none of the defendants admitted any liability for causing the damages, according to the families' attorney, Janine Bauer, of Lawrenceville.

Most of the residents were unaware of the existence of the Superfund site, which was discovered in December, 1985, until they were notified by the State Department of Environmental Protection or the Franklin Township Department of Health, sometime in 1986 or 1987, that they should stop drinking their water. The United States Environmental Protection Agency supplied bottled drinking water to all residents within the well-restriction area for two years. Ultimately, none of these families' wells were contaminated, but DEP installed filters on each well to ensure that should the groundwater supplying their wells become contaminated in the future, they will be protected, according to Ms. Bauer.

The residents' settlement awards ranged from a low of approximately $11,000 for a vacant lot to approximately $68,000, depending upon the initial value of their properties, proximity to the Superfund site, and other special circumstances.

Senote Posses State Budget

A $12.7 billion State budget was narrowly passed by the State Senate. Republicans bad argued that the additional $1.5 billion in taxes necessary to balance the budget would lead to an economic downturn in the State.

After debate lasting two hours, the budget passed 21-17. It now goes to the Assembly for consideration.

The budget calls for reductions in spending in all State departments, except corrections and human services. It will provide a homestead rehate in the fall, instead of in July, as well as an additional $15 million in aid to distressed cities.

Homestead rehates will be 20 percent less than in the past Home owners will receive checks of between $150 and $200, instead of the average previous $190 check.

Assembly Approves Tox Increose

By a vote of 41-36, the Assembly passed a $1.3 billion State income tax increase. The plan would double the top rates for the wealthiest in the State. The hill now goes to the Senate for consideration.

Under the measure, the income tax rate scale would go from the current 2 to 3.5 percent to a range of 2 to 7 percent. The 7 percent rate would be charged on earnings over $75,000 for individuals and $150,000 on joint returns. Deductions for dependents would increase from $1,000 to $1,500 under the hill.

The revenue generated hy the new tax would be used to fund a huge increase in State education spending, the new homestead rebate program, and the State takeover of welfare costs and social service programs now paid out of local tax revenues.

The new homestead rehate measure was merged with the income tax hill Beginning in the fall of 1991, home owners with incomes under $70,000 would get a minimum rebate check of $150. Hlowever, if they pay more than five percent of their income in property taxes, they could get up to $500.

Senate Approves Cost Tokeover

Measures to permit the State to assume $289 million in county and municipal costs for welfare benefits, psychiatric care and other social services have gained Senate approval. The two hills, which would take effect July 1, 1991, state that the amount saved by municipalities and counties has to be passed along to home owners in the form of property tax relief.

The first bill would finance State takeover of 90 percent of the costs of running the five county psychiatric hospitals. The second, which would reduce property taxes by $217 million, would have the State pay for 95 percent of the county share of welfare benefits, excluding administrative costs.

Flag-Burning Resolution Clears Ponel

An Assembly committee has released a resolution urging Congress to amend the United States Constitution to ban flag burning.

The bill was released by a 4-0 vote, with Assemblyman William Schluter (R-Mercer) abstaining. He said he expected his position to be "unpopular."

Protecting Privacy

Consumers using credit cards will not be required to give their home addresses or telephone numbers when making a purchase, under a measure that won final legislative approval in the Senate.

Assemblywoman Marlene Lynch Ford (D-Ocean), a co-sponsor of the bill, said persons who give out home addresses and phone numbers on credit card slips risk "theft and fraud should that personal information wind up in the wrong hands."

The mensure now goes to Gov. Jim Florio for his consideration.

Tighter Control on Oil Spills

Legislative approval has been given to a package of bills that attempts to avert oil spills in New Jersey waterways and exacts heavy penalties if oil is spilled.

The bills, which will be sent to Gov. Jim Florio, include heavy fines for major oil spills and provide a more comprehensive State regulatory oversight of pipeline and marine oil transfers.

One measure would permit the State to levy fines of up to $10 million for spills involving more than 100,000 gallons. Four major spills have occurred since January.

Sofety for Young Skiers

Under legislation approved by the Senate, skiers under 14 would be required to wear protective helmets.

The measure, which was sent to the Assembly, would also require ski operators to establish written safety procedures for medical care, provide first-time skiers with a basic orientation to the ski area, and set aside a ski area for beginners and those with limited experience.

been vacant since Gallup moved its operations across the street to 100 Palmer Square.

Sword & Co., which will relocate its offices to the 14,400-square-foot building early next year, will have an option to acquire the balance of the building in the future. Together, the joint owners plan to invest more than $1 million to renovate and beautify the space, reflecting the quality and architectural style of the downtown Princeton area.

Intended renovations to the building include state-of-the-art heating, ventilating and air conditioning systems, as well as new electrical systems. These and other improvements will bring the Gallup Building into conformance with all current building, fire and handicapped access codes.

"Our move into the Gallup Building and the resulting changes to the structure will provide positive improvements within the Chambers Street neighborhood," said William Sword, Jr., a managing director of Wm Sword & Co. "Renovations to interior and exterior areas of the building will not only beautify the area but will also serve our company's long-term space needs," he added.

According to William Sword, Sr., company founder and chairman, the joint investment poses a good business and financial opportunity for Sword & Co. "We have been renting our current space at 22 Chambers Street for over 14 years and we thought it was time to initiate an ownership interest in Princeton office space. I'm very pleased that we've found such an opportunity in the Gallup Building, while also being involved in a project that ultimately adds to the look of Princeton," he said.

James Krieger, Gallup's executive vice president and chief financial officer, said, "We are very happy to be entering this business venture with Wm Sword & Co. We expect to convert the Gallup Building so that it ranks among the finest office space in downtown Princeton. We are pleased that it will now be jointly owned and occupied by one of this area's leading firms," he said.

Drunken Driving Charges Against Two Motorists

Police have charged two drivers with driving while intoxicated in separate incidents last week in the Township.

David S. Garbowski, 24, of Lawrenceville, was charged with drunken driving and with careless driving, and later released to the custody of his wife, after he was stopped early Sunday morning on Route 27 near the intersection of Riverside Drive.

Mr. Garbowski was initially observed by Ptl. Robert Toole and Ptl. Gary Conover around 1 a.m. as his car left Poe Road and continued up Route 27. The officers saw his car swerve over the shoulder of the road and back again before they stopped it.

After detecting an odor of alcohol, the officers had Mr. Garbowski perform balance and coordination tests at the scene. He was placed under arrest and taken to police headquarters where he was given a Breathalyzer test.

A Record Fete

Saturday's Medical Center Fete resulted in new record gross receipts, according to Basil Robinson, co-chair of the event's publicity committee.

Last year's net receipts, he said, were about $130,000. "With the gross receipts better than last year, with a bit of luck we will have made more." The net figures are usually announced in the early fall.

The weather cooperated wonderfully, and the crowd was estimated at 25,000. "It was one of the best days for weather," said Mr. Robinson, "not unduly hot."

He felt part of the day's success might be attributed to the increase of activities for children and to a selection of new and interesting things to do. "The entertainment tent was rocking along from 9:30 to 5," he said.

Dr. Stanley Rosenberg, a resident of Elm Road and a member of the Urology Group of Princeton, was the winner of the Fete car. The 10K race was won by Matt Waight of New Britain, Conn.

Third Driver Charged

Borough police have charged Alan Hoagland, 35, of Cranbury, with driving while intoxicated, possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia (a pipe) following his arrest Monday morning.

Mr. Hoagland was stopped around 1 a.m. on Washington Road for suspected drunken driving by Ptl. Carol Raymond. During the post-stop investigation, police found a plastic baggie of marijuana in Mr. Hoagland's car. He was later released and is scheduled to appear Monday in Borough court.

Minnie Rhodes, 55, of Witherspoon Street, was arrested early last week by Borough and Township police officers in the driveway of her home.

She has been charged by Township police with driving while intoxicated and possession and consumption of an alcoholic beverage in a motor vehicle.

According to Lt. Anthony Gaylor, Ms. Rhodes was observed by another motorist around 12:30 last Wednesday morning driving very slowly and swerving back and forth on Route 206. After following her car from Edgerstoune Road to her drive, be called both Borough and Township police. Sgt. Donald Dawson of the Borough police was at the scene when Ptl. Michael Henderson of the Township arrived.

When Ptl. Henderson detected a strong odor of alcohol (a cup containing some type of alcoholic beverage was found in her car) and asked Ms. Rhodes to perform some balance tests, she refused. She was placed under arrest and taken to headquarters where she consented to a Breathalyzer test.

Sbe was later released in the custody of ber son, pending her initial hearing in Township court.

last week, police report.

Several pieces of jewelry worth $575 and a $400 television set were taken from a Linden Lane apartment which was entered during a three-day period while the occupant was away. According to Lt. Peter Hanley, entrance was gained by cutting a screen and forcing open a window.

An apartment in the 200 block of Nassau Street was entered, again while the resident was away. Police were called at 9 p.m. by a neighbor who reported hearing the sound of glass breaking.

Police have not yet received a list of what was taken ... "but we have made contact with the victim," Lt. Hanley said. There was evidence, he concluded, that the apartment had definitely been entered.

While the resident of a home in the 200 block of Princeton-Kingston Road was away between 1:30 and 3:30 in the afternoon last week, an intruder entered without force and stole jewelry and a television set, valued at a little more than $4,000, from a bedroom.

Other areas in the house were gone through, Lt. Anthony Gaylord reported. "But the house was not ransacked; it was done neatly."

The owner, he said, found the door ajar upon returning but did not think anything of it at the time. Later, the items were discovered to be missing. Ptl. Mark Emann is investigating.

Juvenile Vandals Visit Princeton High School

Juvenile vandals paid a visit to Princeton High School early Monday morning — the day that rain erased the scheduled senior class graduation day ceremonies.

Lt. Peter Hanley ticked off the damage: three windows on the east side of the cafeteria broken; profanities sprayed in white and orange paint on windows inside the building; a window in the principal's office broken, and manure spread against exterior doors on the north side of the circular drive below the tower.

A neighbor, who, Lt. Hanley said, had witnessed some of the acts of criminal mischief, called police at 5:10 in the morning.

An investigation is being continued by detectives in the Borough police department, Lt. Hanley said. "There have been no arrests at this time," he said Tuesday, "but there are some juvenile suspects."

Two Lockers Are Rifled At YMCA Last Friday

Two lockers in the men's locker room at the Princeton YMCA were broken into Friday afternoon. In each instance, police said, a padlock had been broken off.

One victim, a resident of Plainsboro, lost a $2,000 Rolex watch, $350 in cash and $85 worth of clothing; the second victim, a Monmouth Junction resident, lost $50, credit cards and his wallet valued at $20. Police report there are no suspects.

A 1988 Toyota was broken into last week while it was parked in a rear lot in the 100 block of Nassau Street. The car's trunk had been forced open.

The victim, a resident of East Windsor, told police that her leather jacket and other articles of clothing, worth a combined $415, were missing. She discovered the theft Thursday morning.

A roof rack valued at $150 was stolen last week from the 1981 Chevrolet of a Florence resident while her car was parked during the morning in the YMCA lot, and a boy's black mountain bike was taken last Tuesday from an unlocked garage on Library Place.

Township police report the theft Friday of a black Rock Hopper, a 10-speed mountain bike from alongside Rosa's Caffe in the Princeton Shopping Center. Police report that the $300 bike was left, unlocked, against the building by a co-worker of the victim at 8 in the morning. It was discovered missing a half-hour later.

Princeton Flasher Fined On Five Lewdness Counts

In Borough criminal court Monday, Timothy Hanson, 36, of Morrisville, Pa., who had gained notoriety as the so-called Princeton Flasher, was fined on each of five counts of lewdness.

On each count, Judge Russell W. Annich Jr. fined Mr. Hanson $400, $25 court costs, and $30 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board — a total of $2,275. He was placed on probation for two years. In addition, Judge Annich imposed a 60-day suspended sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse on each count. Each charge carried a maximum of a $1,000 fine or six months in jail or both.

Mr. Hanson was an associate professor of electronic engineering technology at Trenton State College. He has resigned his post effective next Saturday.

Arrested in his college office in February, Mr. Hanson pleaded guilty to exposing himself to women on October 17, November 29, January 29, February 2 and February 9. Almost all the incidents took place in the area of the Theological Seminary and the "tree" streets, near Princeton High School. Three additional charges of lewdness were dropped for lack of positive identification.

Mr. Hanson's private defender attorney told Judge Annich that his client has been attending weekly psychotherapy sessions at Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia and is also seeing a private psychologist.

In another case, Sanford Zeitler, 205 Nassau Street, was fined $100 for violation of a Bor-

Crosswalks to Be Painted

Both the State and the Borough have announced they will repaint pedestrian crosswalk lines this summer. The State is responsible for State roads, including Nassau Street.

State Department of Transportation spokesman Randy Linthorst said crews will move their equipment to Nassau Street after they have completed crosswalk painting on Route 1. This should be sometime this summer, he added.

Borough Engineer Carl Peters said that the summer will see a repainting of crosswalks, stop lines, center lines, and parking slots.

He pointed out that a restriction has been placed on the type of paint previously used, since it was found to be damaging to the environment.

The latex paint now mandated does not work well with Borough equipment, said Mr. Peters. "We are trying to contract with someone in the business of painting lines, and are shooting to get the price in by the end of June and have the work done in the summer."

Neither the Borough nor the State appears to be planning any variations on the simple crosswalk, such as yellow lines or zebra stripes. This is done in other municipalities to alert both motorists and pedestrians to crosswalks.

ough ordinance: illegal rent increase and failure to register for housing inspection. The complainant was Linda Feldstein, rent registration coordinator for the Borough.

Paul Gaydos, 1 Abey Drive, Pennington, was fined $50 for possession of an alcoholic beverage by a minor, and Alan Caulk, 40 Patton Avenue, was also fined $50 for purchasing alcoholic beverage for a minor.

In traffic court, Christoph M. Kleinhans, 16 Lakeview Terrace, Kingston, was fined $215 for an open container of alcoholic beverage in a motor vehicle. Herbert Rabinaw, 190 Gallup Road, paid $75 for a stop sign violation.

Borromeo Constuction Inc. of Hopewell was fined $50 each for two violations, when one of its trucks was found to have defective brakes and no left rear turn signal. It paid a third $50 fine for unsafe vehicle. Murray S. Bailey, 47 Wiggins Street, was fined $20 for no insurance card in possession.

In Township court last week, Stuart V. Dadolf, 6 Gulick Road, and Grayson Barber, 2 Birch Avenue, were each fined $75 by Judge Annich for careless driving.

Daniel R. Palumbo, 222 N. Harrison Street, paid $60 for speeding.

Stuart Arts Festival Highlights Creativity

"STU-ARTS", a combined performing arts/fine arts program, will culminate in an arts festival Friday at 1:30 at Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart on Stuart Road.

Designed for Stuart students, their siblings and friends, ages 7 to 11, the two-week program has emphasized painting techniques, as well as visits to the Philadelphia Art Museum and the Princeton University Art Museum. Students studied the methods of such artists as Gauguin, Degas and Monet, and they also made clay bead necklaces and wall hangings.

In the area of the performing arts, the children worked on theatre games, improvization and pantomime to prepare for Friday's show. Four groups will perform skits on a different aspect of American history. American Indians, the Appalachian westward movement, immigrants' arrival from Europe and song and dance routines from the 1920s are included.

The festival is open to the public.

Recovery Center Reopens At The Carrier Clinic

Carrier Foundation in Belle Mead has reopened its freestanding addiction rehabilitation program. Renamed the "Blake Recovery Center," this is a 24-bed residential alcohol and substance abuse treatment center.

The center is designed to meet the complex initial rehabilitative needs of the drug and alcohol dependent person and his/her family members in a secure, compassionate environment. Using a holistic, "back-to-basics" approach to treatment, the certified addictions counselors are the primary therapists and serve as case managers for each patient's treatment program. Other treatment team members include registered and certified nurses, internists, nutritionists and allied clinical therapists.

In addition to Blake Recovery Center, Carrier also offers the Addiction Recovery Unit in Russell Hall for complicated addictions, and/or a primary diagnosis of addiction with a coexisting psychiatric illness. The Dual Diagnosis Program is available for individuals sufering from a major psychiatric disorder with diagnosed substance abuse problems.

There is also a comprehensive Outpatient Addiction Treatment Service with a full range of outpatient services including treatment for nicotine addiction.

Firemen to March

The Princeton Firemen's Annual Inspection Parade will be held Friday, June 29 starting at 7 p.m. at the corner of Nassau and Chestnut Streets. The parade will go west on Nassau Street to Borough Hall.

Ceremonies afterward will include awards for members having more than 25 years of active service with the department. An inspection by Borough Council and Township Committee will follow.

The parade will include the three fire companies that make up the Princeton Fire Department — Mercer Engine Co. No. 3, Princeton Engine Co. No. 1, and Princeton Hook and Ladder, the Princeton First Aid Squad, Ladies Auxiliary marching units, and three bands.

The first fireman's inspection by the governing body was requested by Fire Chief John J. Stryker on July 5, 1884. It was held on July 10 in front of Mercer Hall, (on Nassau Street, between Tulane Street and Allen's.) The Fire Department at this time showed off some of its newest equipment, such as canvas jackets, rubber hoses and an 1883 Rumsey and Company horse-drawn ladder truck. In 1883, the first fire hydrants were installed and an area newspaper commented that the "roads were once again passable" now that the work was complete.

This year's parade will include Princeton Engine Co. No. 1's new pumper, which went into service in April, 1989. It features a six-man cab, 1750 G.P.M. pump, top-mounted pump panel, and automatic transmission.

Summer Lacrosse League Ready to Start Season

The Princeton Recreation Department women's summer lacrosse league will hold its organizational night Thursday, June 21, at Princeton High School Field. Interested individuals can register at the field, or stop by the Recreation office, 380 Witherspoon Street.

The league, which is under the direction of Joyce Jones, is a stick league, which means there are no body blocks. To be eligible to participate, a young woman must have at least completed ninth grade. Games are played on Tuesday and Thursday evenings through early August at the high school field.

The cost is $20 for Princeton residents; $40 for nonresidents. For more information call 921-9480.

New Treatment Study For Alzheimer's Disease

People who suffer from Alzheimer's Disease may be eligible for a study of an investigational drug, Tacrine; also known as THA. To be eligible, a patient must be at least 50 years old, in generally good health, and have been diagnosed as having Alzheimer's Disease. Eligible patients must also be living in the community, not in institutions, and must be reliable about taking medication and keeping appointments.

Eligible patients will receive regular psychiatric and neurologic evaluations, memory testing, EKG's, laboratory tests, and up to nine months of treatment, free of charge. All patients can eventually receive Tacrine, though a third of the patients will receive placebo (an inactive substance) during the initial 6-12 weeks. The effects of the medication will be monitored at all times. All information collected during the study will be treated in the strictest confidence.

The study is being conducted by the Psychopharmacology Research Association of Princeton. Dr. Jeffrey Mattes, director of the association, is also clinical assistant professor of psychiatry at the Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and has been extensively involved in psychiatric research over the past 17 years. For further information, contact Carol LaBracio at 921-9299

Catholic Mass In Spanish

Those members of the growing Latin American community who are Catholic will no longer need to travel to Trenton and elsewhere for a Catholic Mass in Spanish.

Beginning Sunday at 3, a Mass in Spanish will be held at St. Paul's Church. It will be followed by a social hour. Plans are for the Mass to be held each Sunday.

"This is the first regularly scheduled Mass in Spanish in Princeton," said Borough Councilwoman Lucy Mackenzie. Ms. Mackenzie was instrumental in putting together the Latin American Task Force, which is working on a number of ways to assist the Latin American community in town.

Summer Aquatics Classes At the Princeton YWCA

The Princeton YWCA aquatics department will offer a wide range of swimming programs for children and adults in the summer session beginning Monday, June 25.

Aquatic instruction — for daytime youth programs and for evening adult classes — is divided into two four-week sessions. Evening instruction for youth will meet on Mondays for eight weeks from 7 to 7:40. A new competitive swim clinic is designed to train youth in speed, endurance, and racing form.

Parent/child aquatics will continue with Waterbabies I-III and Parent/Toddler classes. Tadpoles, Angelfish, and Dolphins are ability levels in the 3½- to 5-year-old swim program. A special class, Adapted Aquatics, is designed for children with physical or mental disability.

Three adult aquatic specials are listed for summer: early morning swims from 8 to 9, Monday through Friday; water aerobics on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 9:45 a.m.; and pre-natal and post-natal aquatic exercise on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2 to 2:30 p.m.

Starting June 23, Red Cross life guard training will be offered on Saturdays from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Arthritis and rehabilitation swim therapy are held during both morning and afternoon hours, Monday through Friday. A new evening time, from 7 to 7:30 on Wednesdays, has been added to the schedule.

Daycare Scholarships Are Available for Fall

U-NOW Day Nursery, 171 Broadmead, has three scholarship slots in its class for 4- to 6-year-olds for the 1990 school year. The kindergarten program is designed for both a pre-K as well as kindergarten-level child. topic of discussion among Committee members. Township engineer Robert Kiser explained that Mercer Road/Princeton Pike is due to be reconstructed from the Borough line at Lovers Lane to the Stony Brook Bridge beginning some time in September. A new drainage system is also proposed. Mr. Kiser said the project is estimated to take four months.

In answer to Mayor Litvack's question about the need for storm drainage, he replied that it serves two purposes. "It gets the surface water out of there, and it also removes sub-surface water, which can cause damage. This will help to maintain the structural integrity of the road."

Logistics Considered

The strategy of the reconstruction work also came up for discussion. Mr. Kiser recommended that initial work start in September, with a temporary paving for the winter. Then in March, work would resume until completion.

The possibilities of segmenting the work and also instituting one-way requirements on Mercer Road during morning and evening rush hours were also brought up. Mr. Kiser said both of these suggestions would be taken under advisement by the Engineering Department.

In addition, a meeting with residents of the Mercer Road/Princeton Pike neighborhood is planned.

The lengthiest and liveliest discussion of the evening involved an ongoing dispute between Princeton resident Maria Stoenescu and the Township regarding the safety of her Riverside Drive West house.

Mrs. Stoenescu began construction of an addition to the house more than 10 years ago. According to the Township, she has not obtained the necessary electrical, plumbing and fire permits in order to complete the second- and third- floor additions, which she had hoped to rent.

The Township maintains that Mrs. Stoenescu has not provided proof that a licensed electrician and plumber will do the

Trouble All Over Town

Tuesday's brief but intense thunderstorm left its imprint on Princeton in the form of downed trees and power lines.

Lt. Peter Hanley of the Borough reported tree limbs, power lines and telephone lines down. "A whole bunch of things all over town. Fortunately no injuries," he added.

Moore Street was closed between Nassau and Spruce streets as a result of two trees down and a Public Works crew from the Borough was at the scene trying to clear the roadway,

A big tree limb was reported down at Washington and Nassau Street, creating still further complications for motorists who also have to contend with the closing of the Alexander Street Bridge. "I don't know if it was a tree or a limb," said a harried Lt. Hanley, "but whatever it is, it's a good size."

"Trees are down and lights are out all over. That's all I know," said the Township police dispatcher who then hung up.

There was one positive note. The Princeton High School graduation ceremonies, cancelled the day before by a storm and seemingly about to be victimized again, escaped having to go inside. The word from the school at 5 p.m.: "It's outside."

Zoning

It recommended that the use of the buildings remain single-family in order to maintain the residential character of the neighborhood, as adopted in the Princeton Community Master Plan, and in order to prevent density increase in the neighborhood. This recommendation, however, is not binding on the Zoning Board.

Pat Smith, who lives next door to the former restaurant with her husband and young daughter, said she would like to keep the neighborhood single-family. "We are looking at a potential six units," she said. "This seems like a lot. Making Madhatter's into four apartments also seems like a lot."

Gordon C. Strauss, attorney for the Minshaw Corporation, said he expects there will be people at the Zoning Board meeting in support of the application, in opposition, and neutral.

Township Zoning Officer Peter Kneski noted that the applicant has filed a bifurcated application. "They are not coming in with a full site plan," he said. "They will apply for a use variance to see if it is approved by the Zoning Board. If accepted, they will go for a more formal site plan."

Madhatter's Restaurant — which was run by a group of individuals that included Daphne Minton, Dwight Minton's daughter — closed several years ago. The adjacent yellow stucco building, which appears in poor repair, has been empty for a number of years.

Before it became Madhatter's, the building was the site for many years of Cenerino's, a popular neighborhood bar.

work. Without such proof, the permits cannot be granted.

In addition, the Township is concerned over the structural safety of the addition. It was finally decided to hire a structural engineer to inspect the property.

Mrs. Stoenescu, although

FOUR APARTMENTS? An application to convert the former Madhatter's restaurant into four apartments, and an adjacent building into two apartments, is the subject of concern to some Leigh Avenue neighbors.

grateful for the opportunity to appear before Committee, objected to the Township's "unsafe" designation of the addition. She believes that she had satisfied the Township's requests fully, and that, furthermore, she has been denied access to her house. Since she cannot rent the house, she contends she is suffering financial hardship. "I have organized my life according to this income," she stated.

Some 'Good Faith' Needed

Township construction offical Betty Jablonsky, noted that the dwelling is not registered as a rental property and could not be used as such until Mrs. Stoenescu obtains the valid permits and complies with the building codes.

In addition, Mrs. Stoenescu has also been assessed $42,500 in fines over a section of the addition which violates the height to side yard ratio setback by four feet. Mrs. Stoenescu has been involved in a dispute with neighbors over failure to correct this.

Committee hoped that this part of the problem could be resolved out of court if all parties could get together "and show good faith", and that, in the words of Mayor Litvack, "this remarkably complex set of circumstances that has ensued in the last 10 years — the entire 10-year saga" could be brought to successful conclusion.

In other business, Committee awarded a framed Certificate of Appreciation to Eagle Scouts Dean Lyeteffi and Sean Reddy of Troop 43 for their participation in the Clean Communities Grant. Their help in cleaning and maintaining the Township's parks, including Grover Park and Mountain Lakes, "have saved the Public Works Department a lot of work," noted Mayor Litvack.

As a further sign of appreciation, a check for $750 was given to the troop.

DOCTORS SAY OUR HEALTH IS AT STAKE
Physicians for Social Responsibility ask
"Which would YOU rather have?"

HEALTH or WEAPONS

Immunization of 38,000,000 children = $3.8 BILLION = Star Wars Program
Pre-natal care for 1,250,000 mothers = $1 BILLION = 400 M-1 tanks
Proposed cuts in child nutrition programs = $530 MILLION = 1 Stealth bomber
Clean-up of 14 toxic waste sites (NJ has over 1000) = $100 MILLION = 6 months ooeration/1 aircraft carrier

Dr. Ieva Eikstrems examining a child at New Jersey's University of Medicine & Dentistry in Newark

In 10 years of military extravagance, the U.S. has spent
* $568,104 every minute !
* $34 million every hour!
* $818 million every day!
Enough taxes syphoned from NJ in 1989 to FUND ALL our local governments ! !

Our national treasury hemorrhages as the military budget rises--nearly $307 BILLION for this year's peacetime outlay. This is not national security; it is a prescription for economic disaster. The arms race is bankrupting us. It also produces huge amounts of radioactive and other toxic wastes which threaten public health.

We, the undersigned, advocate major CUTS IN MILITARY SPENDING to FUND HUMAN NEEDS. We urge you to send this public statement with your demand for such change in spending priorities to Senators Bradley and Lautenberg, Senate Office Building, Washington, DC 20510, and to your Representative, House Office Building, Washington, DC 20515

OBITUARIES

John Summerskill,, a college president who became a New Jersey winemaker, died of cancer June 14 at bome in Belle Mead. He was 65.

Born in Montreal, Canada, he attended McGill University and was named to the All-Canadian University Football Team in 1945. He served with the Canadian Infantry Corps from 1943 to 1945, and earned a Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1953.

Mr. Summerskill began his academic career at Cornell University in 1951 as a clinical psychologist, specializing in research on student health. His nationwide survey of student health services earned him the Ruth Boynton Award for Contributions to college student health.

In 1958, when he was 33, he was named Cornell's first vice president for student affairs. He was credited with a major reorganization of student government which eased what had been a growing conflict between students and administration.

Before leaving Cornell in 1966, Mr. Summerskill was professor of medical administration and director of Cornell's Sloan Institute of Hospital Administration in Ithaca, N.Y. He organized a network of internships in metropolitan New York hospitals for the administrative training of Sloan students.

Mr. Summerskill was selected to be president of San Francisco State College in 1966, and he was immediately involved in the social and political controversies of the 1960s. An early opponent of America's expanding role in Vietnam, he marched with his son in an anti-war protest, which drew the anger of then California governor Ronald Reagan.

The governor attended a meeting of the school's trustees to investigate Mr. Summerskill's "stewardship", but the trustees subsequently approved his handling of student unrest. Mr. Summerskill detailed these experiences in President Seven, published by World Books.

From 1968 to 1971, he and his wife, Miriam LaFollette Summerskill, lived and worked overseas. For two years, he was a Ford Foundation adviser at Haile Selassie I University in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. There, before the collapse of the longtime regime of the Emperor Haile Selassie, he drew up a comprehensive plan for the development of Ethiopia's national university.

He later visited nine countries in Africa, the Middle East and Asia under the auspices of the Institute of Public Administration.

The Summerskills moved to their Belle Mead farm in the 1970s, and Mr. Summerskill became a vice president of Educational Testing Service with responsibility for the operarion of College Board programs. He organized and ran ETS's first International Programs Office and participated in educational programs and research in developing countries.

In 1979, Mr. Summerskill was named president of Athens College in Greece, a private college. For six years, he steered the college through the difficult economic and political times accompanying the socialist government of Athens College alumnus Andreas Papandreou. After his resignation in 1985, the Summerskills returned to their Montgomery Township farm and worked full-time to turn it into a commercial vineyard.

Starting in the early 1980s, he and his wife had put in 10,000 vines at the farm, and their LaFollette Vineyards now gained local and national recognition.

Mr.Summerskill was elected president of the New Jersey Wine Growers Association in 1989. He was also a trustee of Athens College, a trustee of International Institutional Services, and a trustee of the Institute of Public Administration in New York City.

He is survived by his wife, Miriam; two daughters, Kyle Summerskill of Ithaca, N.Y., and Gail Summerskill of Baltimore, Md.; a son, John Paul Summerskill of New York City; three stepsons, Richard Wright of Princeton, William Wright of New York City, and Robert Wright of England; and two stepdaughters, Helen Bodel of Watertown, Mass., and Wendy Wright of Athens, Greece.

News of the THEATRES

Ambitious Season Is Set By Crossroads Theatre

A historic fantasy by actress Denise Nicholas, a contemporary drama by playwright/screenwriter Richard Wesley, and the world premiere of the Sangoma Women's Company project are among the 1990-91 productions planned by Crossroads Theatre Company.

As the company awaits completion of its new theater in downtown New Brunswick, scheduled for mid-1991, it will mark its final season on Memorial Parkway with an ambitious schedule featuring some of the most dynamic artists and innovative concepts in contemporary African American theater. The season also will include Crossroads' traditional holiday musical and its second annual new play festival, "Genesis 1991," which provides theater-goers with an opportunity to meet and speak with the rising stars of the modern theater movement.

Rick Khan, Crossroads' co-founder and producing artistic director, says the new season reflects Crossroads' preparation for its impending transition by featuring plays dealing with introspection and personal growth.

The season will open Thursday, September 6, with Mr. Wesley's introspective drama, The Talented Tenth, which follows a group of Howard University graduates as they search for meaning in their successful lives. Mr. Wesley also is the author of the play, The Mighty Gents, and the films, Uptown Saturday Night and Let's Do It Again.

Distant Fires, by Kevin Heelan, opening October 25, focuses on the dreams and disappointments of an integrated crew of construction laborers. Set against the backdrop of a race riot miles away, the play explores the effects of distant events on everyday lives.

Following the holiday musical, which will be announced at a later date, actress Denise Nicholas will make her playwriting debut with Buses on February 7. The play received a staged reading during the "Genesis 1990" festival.

Buses brings 20th-century civil rights activist Rosa Parks and 19th-century black entrepreneur Mary Ellen Pleasant together at an imaginary bus stop to tell their stories as they, not the historians, see them. This poignant, humorous drama coincides with Crossroads' celebration of Black History Month.

Ms. Nicholas, who starred in Crossroads' 1988 production, To Gleam It Around, To Show My Shine, is best known for her work on television's Room 222, and, more recently, In the Heat of the Night. A veteran of the Negro Ensemble Company, she also began playwriting in recent years and is now part of Crossroads' Associate Artists program.

The final production of 1990-91 will be the world premiere on April 18 of the Sangoma Women's Company work, tentatively entitled "The Mother Project." The production fuses music, dance, drama and video to tell the story of ancient heroism, mysticism and contemporary survival by black women. It features 13 women, all members of the Sangoma Women's Company.

The piece was conceived by Crossroads' Literary Manager Sydne Mahone and developed collaboratively by the Sangoma Women's Company. Ms. Mahone founded the company last year to provide a forum for women in African American theater.

Subscriptions for the 1990-91 season are now on sale through the Audience Development Department. Season subscription prices range from $75 to $120 for preview performances and $85 to $180 for the regular run, depending on the day selected. Tickets to the "Genesis 1991" festival are free to subscribers.

This year, Crossroads has begun offering a "21-65" program. Anyone under 21 or over 65 in age pays $65 for a subscription to performances other than Saturday evenings.

For more information, call Garry Johnson, audience development director, at (201) 249-5581.

Original News Broadcast By "The News Kids"

"The 6:00 News", an original news broadcast, and a joint venture of Princeton's Creative Theatre and Jersey Kids on the Block, will be performed by "The News Kids" on Thursday, June 21. The 6 p.m. program will be held at the Regional Day School in Hamilton (on the grounds of Mercer County Community College). Admission is free and open to the public.

"The News Kids" are 14 developmentally delayed 8 to 15 year-olds from Mercer County, and "The 6:00 News" is the culmination of a 10-session drama class. Creative Theatre's education director, Jean Prall, provided help with visual arts, music, movement and drama activities, and Jean Canning of Jersey Kids on the Block contributed puppeteering skills using Kids on the Block puppets.

For further information, contact Jean Prall at Creative Theatre, 924-3489.

Avery Brooks as Othello At Rutgers SummerFest

Shakespeare's Othello, starring Avery Brooks in the title role, will open Friday, June 22, as part of Rutgers SummerFest. Directed by Harold Scott, the play will run through July 15 in the air-conditioned Philip J. Levin Theater of the Rutgers Arts Center, George Street at Route 18, New Brunswick.

Curtain time is 8 p.m., except for a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday, July 15. The play will preview Thursday, June 21. The theater is dark Mondays.

Othello is the first of two Shakespeare productions in the SummerFest series, which will continue with The Taming of the Shrew, directed by William Esper, July 20 to August 12.

Mr. Brooks, best known as Hawk in television's Spenser: For Hire and A Mon Colled Hawk, will be joined in the cast by Andre Braugher, who protrayed Searles in the motion picture Glory and who will play Iago. Also in the cast are Jordan Baker (whose television credits include L.A. Law) as Desdemona, and Cynthia Martells, a television and movie actress, as Emilia. Composer Lawrence D. "Butch" Morris, who was musical director for A Mon Called Hawk, is creating an original percussion score for the production.

Tickets are $18 and $15 for general admission and $5 for students. Tickets for the preview are $15 and $12. For information, or to charge tickets by phone, call the Rutgers Arts Ticket Office at (201) 932-7511.

Rutgers SummerFest is a celebration of dance, music, theater and visual arts presented by Rutgers' Mason Gross School of the Arts.

McCarter Mourns Loss of Jay Doyle

Jay Doyle, a veteran actor who appeared in more than 25 productions at McCarter Theatre, died June 2, at the age of 59 in New York.

Born in Chester, Pennsylvania, Mr. Doyle performed both on and off Broadway and was a charter member of the American Conservatory Theatre in San Francisco where he remained for seven years playing in more than 35 productions. In addition, he spent several seasons at the Pittsburgh Playhouse and Arena Stage in Washington, D.C. Mr. Doyle performed with the Clarence Brown Company as Banquo in Anthony Quayle's Macbeth and as Von Brummel in Joshua Logan's Rip Van Winkle.

Mr. Doyle recently marked his 11th season at McCarter as Dr. Manette in Nagle Jackson's adaptation of Charles Dickens' A Tale of Two Cities. His McCarter appearances included Uncle Vanyo, Born Yesterday, The Boys Next Door and Saint Joan. He was especially known for his role of Mrs. Dilber in A Christmas Carol.

Nagle Jackson, a life-long friend and his director at McCarter Theatre, wired these words from Trondheim, Norway where he is preparing a production of Romeo and Juliet for the Trondelag Theater:

"Dear Jay,

"I speak to you directly because, as Romeo says of the suddenly fallen Mercutio, 'Your soul is but a little way above our heads.' I mourn your leaving us because we lose with you a gift of beauty and style. Style is much belittled these days, but you, my friend, knew its value, its capacity to give joy to the accidental nature of life. We have lost, among so many other things, one of the most beautiful voices on the English speaking stage. Oh, how I shall miss those tones, like a pipe organ blessed with language.

"You will be with me, my friend, always — but most particularly on every Christmas Eve, when Jacob Marley and Mrs. Dilber ... and Jay Doyle will haunt me in the happiest of ways.

"Rest well, Jay. Thank you for a treasure chest of memories."

Classes for Children Available at McCarter

There is still space available in McCarter's Acting Summer classes for children ages 5 through 13. Classes meet Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursdays, July 10 through August 1, at the Broadmead Theater, located at 171 Broadmead in Princeton.

A variety of creative drama experiences using art, movement, and music as it relates to dramatic art are offered. Children will be introduced to acting, play development, theater games, improvisation and a pre-Shakespeare class.

Tuition is $80 for the Beginners I and II classes, and $120 for the Intermediates and Pre-Shakespeare classes. Enrollment is limited to 12 students per class. For more information, call 497-2419 or 683-9100.

Summer Concert Series To Begin at University

The Princeton University Summer Chamber Concert Series begins its 1990 season on Thursday, June 28 with The Olivia Ensemble, a group of musicians who are coming together just for this evening. The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in Richardson Auditorium at Alexander Hall on the Princeton University campus. Admission, as always, is free.

The program will begin with Mozart's Divertimento for String Trio in E flat, K 563, and will feature Mark Peskanov, violin; Paul Coletti, viola; and Daniel Gaisford, cello.

After intermission, Timothy Cobb on double bass and Marian Hahn on piano will join the trio to perform Schubert's Quintet in A Major, D 667, also known as "The Trout."

Paul Coletti has performed in solo concerts in London, Geneva, Buenos Aires, and cities all across the United States. He has collaborated with Sir Yehudi Menuhin as soloist in Bartok's Viola Concerto, with Menuhin conducting, in Berlin in a concert televised throughout Europe. Mr. Coletti heads the viola department at the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore.

Daniel Gaisford has been first prize winner of the National Young Artists Competition in Los Angeles, a recipient of the American String Teachers Honor Award, and the winner of the Shostakovich Cello Competition at the Juilliard School in 1986.

Mark Peskanov had the rare honor of receiving two awards in one year. In 1985 he garnered both an Avery Fisher Career Grant and Carnegie Hall's first Isaac Stern Award. This summer, besides appearing here, Mr. Peskanov will be touring Australia and performing in a special concert in San Francisco to celebrate Isaac Stern's 70th birthday.

Marian Hahn is a founding member of the Amabile Piano Quartet and the Wave Hill Trio, and has participated in the Marlboro, Grand Canyon and Grand Teton summer festivals. She is currently a member of the piano faculty at the Peabody Conservatory.

Timothy Cobb has been Associate Principal Bass of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra since 1986. Through his participation in the Marlboro Festival, he has performed with many of today's leading artists, including members of the Guarneri Quartet, the Emerson Quartet and the Beaux Arts Trio.

Products Showcase Set At Mercer County Airport

Mercer County Executive Bill Mathesius has announced plans for the Mercer County Products Showcase '90, to be held September 13 at the Indoor Tennis Facility at Mercer County Airport. The showcase will run from 11:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.

In 1989, more than 14,000 visitors came to the showcase at River View Executive Park in Trenton. Because of the sheer size of the indoor tennis facility, this year's event has the potential of being the largest exposition ever held, in both Mercer County and Central New Jersey."

Applications for space are available by contacting the Mercer County Division of Economic Development, 640 South Broad Street, Room 423, Trenton, 08611, or by calling Project Manager Lee Millas at 989-6555 or 989-6579. The cost of each exhibit booth is $200.

New Shopping Concept At Food For Thought

"I thought the name Food For Thought was very appropriate," notes Don Salvia, owner of the new shopping village on Route 27, just north of Kingston. "It's the whole idea of eating right and feeling right. That's Food For Thought. I think finally people in the health food business are making the food more gourmet, and gourmet food is now more healthy. Healthy food now tastes good, and we are involved in that combination. That's what we're doing.

"Also," he adds, "I want all the people who come here to have a good time. I also hope they can learn something here — about good health and good eating and relaxing."

A SHOPPING VILLAGE: "A select group of food-oriented experts and professionals dedicated to the art of living well," is the way owner Don Salvia describes his new shopping village, Food For Thought At South Brunswick. Plentiful Acres, Mr. Salvia's popular fresh produce store, is joined by a group of shops offering gourmet foods, flowers and gifts, as well as the professional services of a counselor, nutritionist, massage therapist and chiropractors.

Mr. Salvia is known to many in the area as the owner of Plentiful Acres, the fresh produce store which has been a mainstay on Route 27 for the past 15 years. "Actually, it was my Plentiful Acres customers who helped give me the idea for Food For Thought," he recalls. "They had been asking me to bring in more kinds of things, and I liked the idea of having everything together, all focused on the theme of living and eating well and emphasizing high-quality merchandise and personal service. Of course Plentiful Acres is still here, offering the best fresh produce every day. We ship direct out of California, and we are also a certified New Jersey farm market. We will have an organic produce section, too."

Mr. Salvia selects each Food For Thought merchant personally, and, notes administrative assistant Wendy Johnsen, "Don is very particular about who comes here. They have to meet high standards. The people here are the best at what they do." Adds Mr. Salvia, "The tenants we have here are great. All the shops are owner-operated, and are very service-oriented."

Stress on Service

Six shops have opened within the last six weeks, with six more due to arrive in July and August. Food For Thought can accommodate 22 stores in all, and it is very important to Mr. Salvia that the right mix of shops be available. "Again," he emphasizes, "I want to stress the idea of personalized service. We are here to serve the public, and that is paramount at Food For Thought. We will carry packages to their cars for people, and we offer a delivery service. We want to do all we can to make the shopping experience so congenial and in an atmosphere so pleasant that people will always want to come back."

Among the shops already open, besides Plentiful Acres, are South Av. Seafood, specializing in a complete line of fancy, fresh, frozen and prepared seafood items; Whole-Some Living Center, which offers nutritional counseling, as well as a full line of natural foods, vitamins, herbs and books and literature. Notes owner and nutritionist Sheryl Stanley, "More and more people are interested in nutrition and eating healthy food. I do nutritional counseling in the store, and we also have a line of natural cosmetics and skin care. None of our products is animal-tested."

The Nutcracker Gourmet, Inc. features specialty foods, such as imported chocolates, nuts and dried fruits, jellies, jams and dressings and gourmet baskets. "Our specialty is a large selection of gourmet coffee beans," says owner Glenn Foglia. "We will also have a big variety of nutcrackers and smokers.

"We are already getting a lot of positive feedback from people," he reports. "We think we are set apart by being very service oriented. We spend time with customers. We really care about our customers."

Also recently opened in the shopping village is Santa Fe Potter Co., owned by Susan Martinez-Kelly. Formerly located in Palmer Square, the shop specializes in lead-free, oven-proof and dishwasher-safe pottery, and jewelry and gift items from the southwest, as well as a selection of dry foods.

Marrazzo's Manor Lane Florist offers a large variety of flowers, plants, garden supplies and tools and gifts in an attractive, spacious setting.

Wendy Johnsen notes that among the shops opening this summer will be Cream Ridge Winery (a New Jersey vintner), Geiger's Pies and Cakes, Zappia's Italian Deli, Sweet Obsessions (featuring ice cream and frozen yogurt) and The Chocolate Ladies, specializing in homemade chocolate.

Also expected this summer is Mom's Bake at Home Pizza. As a spokesperson for the shop explained, "This is 'Pizza for the Particular.' There are no preservatives or additives. We use all fresh vegetables, and we offer a whole wheat shell and low-cholesterol cheese. This is for people who really care about what they eat. That's why it belongs in Food For Thought." Ms. Johnsen adds that a cookware and cooking school, gift and bookstore are other possibilities under consideration.

"My specialty is gift baskets at Plentiful Acres," she comments, "and one of the things we have planned is to have demonstrations from time to time in the atrium. I'll demonstrate making gift baskets. A very nice thing in preparing the baskets is that we can use all the items from Food For Thought's different stores to make the baskets very special. We also expect to have demonstrations on making chocolate from The Chocolate Ladies, cooking demonstrations and nutritional and massage therapy demonstration."

Attractive Setting

Food For Thought's attractive park-like setting and eye-catching contemporary theme colors — light raspberry and gray — are sure to arouse customer interest. Brick-paved walkways, skylights, landscaped pond and gardens, with gazebo and bridge, and courtyard and atrium are among the highlights.

"I want people to realize that of our nine-acre parcel of land, four acres have been left completely natural with trees," says Mr. Salvia. "And of the five acres with buildings, two acres are all landscaped. It's very important that we provide a setting that appeals to people. We also have ample and convenient parking. With all the stress people have these days, we hope they can relax here and take a breather. We are going to have tables and chairs, so they can sit outside with lunch or a cup of coffee.

"Also," he continues, "we plan to have a stress management counselor and biofeedback, as well as family counseling. Our chiropractors, Sr. Mark Schulman and Dr. Preston Deutsch, already have offices here, as does Nancy Alexander, our massage therapist."

Mr. Salvia adds that a variety of special events are planned for the coming months. "We'll have a big Fourth of July picnic, and there will be barbecues and parties for kids, horseshoes and pet and puppet shows. We want people to remember, too, that Food For Thought is about families."

He notes that a Grand Opening is planned for late September or early October and that everyone will be invited. Customers are already coming from as far away as Somerville and Plainfield, as well as New Brunswick, Pennington and Princeton, he reports.

"One thing to keep in mind," adds Ms. Johnsen, "Is that we have first-class shops but with reasonable prices. We cover a wide range of prices. You can get things for $1 or less, or for much more. Gift baskets are $30 and up and can be custom made with whatever people want. Other prices are all across the board.

"I think we are doing an exciting thing," she continues. "It's hard work, but it's fun. I said to Don, 'I think we are really making history.' There's nothing else just like Food For Thought. The style, the concept and set-up are all special, and I hope that our reputation will grow."

Adds Mr. Salvia, "I think we have started a new shopping tradition here. I take real pride in being the best I can be, and showing that this concept can be done, that the idea will work.

HOPES & EXPECTATIONS: Long-time Plentiful Acres employee, Olga Cocroft, shown in Food For Thought's landscaped, perk-like setting, is enthusiastic about her boss, Don Salvia's new project. "I'm pleased for Don. I really am. He told me years ago about his dream, and I really hope it catches on. People just need to come and see us!"

I hope everyone will come to see us. We really have quite a place!"

Food For Thought is open Monday through Thursday and Saturday 10 to 6, Friday 10 to 7 and Sunday 11 to 4.

Sigmund Supports Use of Palmer House Backyard to Ease Town's Parking Crunch

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As members of the Historical Society of Princeton worked so closely with Mayor and Council when the historic district ordinance was drawn up five years ago, several of those members must remember that the University successfully argued that while Palmer House and its front lawn belonged properly in a historic district, the backyard did not properly belong in a district.

Among other reasons that Mayor and Council and the Planning Board agreed with the University on this point was the very salient point that the back of Palmer House had not remained in its original landscaping, but rather it had housed a large swimming pool and tennis court until the recent past. (An aerial photo of the swimming pool and tennis court can be seen in the Mayor's Office at One Monument Drive.) Thus, the backyard of Palmer House is not in a historic district.

Trinity Church is a historic building that also leases a parking lot to Princeton Borough. The use of the Palmer House back property for a parking lot will be even less intrusive than the Trinity Church yard, for cars on the Palmer House lot, which is unseen and unused by the people of Princeton, will be hidden behind a wall, while those at Trinity can be seen from two adjacent roads.

The Historical Society of Princeton has often reminded us that part of Princeton's history is its vital commercialism. In order to insure that commercial vitality, Princeton Borough needs parking places for the downtown employees who otherwise have no place to park but the public streets, causing understandable problems among our residents.

Businesses Are Thanked For Prom Party Gifts

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We would like to thank all the members of the Princeton Business community whose contributions helped make this year's Princeton High School Post Prom Party a success.

Special thanks to Alan Landis for once again allowing us to hold the party at Carnegie Center. We were very fortunate to have such a lovely setting made available to us. Thanks are also due to Peter Savidge and the staff at Carnegie Center, and also to the Bistro Cafe for their delicious contribution.

The party would not have been possible without the donations of the Policemen's Benevolent Association, the Princeton Youth Fund, and the Rotary Club.

The highpoint of the evening was the drawings for prizes that had been donated by many of our local businesses. Thanks to Alchemist and Barrister, the Athenian, Ben & Jerry's, Clancy's Place, Fitness Force, Great Tastes, H. Gross and Co., the Grotto, the Hyatt Regency Princeton, J.B. Winberie, Jordan's, Mr. Buffalo, Nassau Inn, Nassau Street Seafood, PJ's Pancake House, Pizza Star, Princeton Aqua Sports, Princeton Record Exchange, Proctor Center Stationers, Rocky Hill Inn, Rusty Scupper, Sakura House, Sealfons, TCBY, Tempting Tiger, Teresa's Pizza, Thomas Sweet, United Artists Movies at Marketfair, Vesuvio's Pizzeria, Victor's Pizzeria, Video Express, and West Coast Video.

And finally our thanks to those faculty members and staff of Princeton High School who attended the party or who assisted in its planning, and to the parents who gave their time and support. This community-wide effort resulted in a safe and happy prom night.

The generosity of over 500 Planned Parenthood supporters made our fund-raiser an extraordinary success.

We would like to extend our sincere gratitude to Educational Testing Service (ETS) and the hard-working Benefit Committee who helped make the event possible. A special thank you goes out to Eleanor Horne and Bill Bowers of ETS, who worked with our staff and volunteers to make sure that our event ran smoothly and efficiently.

To our honorary chairmen, Governor Jim Florio, Senators Frank Lautenberg and Bill Bradley, and Thomas Kean, President of Drew University — thank you for your support. A heartfelt thank you to our sponsors, patrons, friends and numerous in-kind contributors, who made it possible for Planned Parenthood to continue to provide much-needed health services and educational programs while helping to ensure that New Jersey remains pro-choice.

Hinkson's, the Guys from Princeton, Still Tearing Up Opposition After Moving Up to Stronger Mercer National Softball League

This is a success story. A softball success story that is reaching its apogee this season. A story that many thought would have a far different outcome.

When Hinkson's (the hero of our story) joined the Mercer National Softball League three years ago after two years in the Princeton Recreation League, it was entering one of the more competitive leagues in the area, of which there are many. "Basically, I knew we could play there, I knew we could be competitive, but I didn't think we would win 20 games," recalled John Roberto, the team's second baseman and team sponsor.

SO FAR — THEY'RE PERFECT: John Roberto (left) is second baseman and sponsor, and Greg Hamer is an outfielder on the Hinkson's softball team, which has a perfect 15-0 record in the Mercer National league. Story this page.

As it turned out, Hinkson's surprised its critics (and maybe itself) by winning 21 of 26 games its first year in the league. "That's why a lot of teams didn't like us," said Roberto. "We were the guys from Princeton. We weren't expected to do that well. Everyone felt we were all tennis players."

Well, meet the Ivan Lendls of the league. Last year, Hinkson's ended in a tie for first place with Miller Beer, each team ending with identical 22-4 records. Hinkson's lost the one-game playoff for the league championship by one run and then was eliminated in its second outing in the playoffs.

This year, more than halfway through the regular season, Hinkson's owns a perfect 15-0 record. "I don't know of any team in the past five or six years that's gone undefeated," said Roberto but even so, as he ticked off the team's record in the league so far, he added: "Fifty-eight and nine — that's not too bad."

At the moment, Hinkson's is two games in front of its nearest pursurer, Lapidus Market. The two front-runners will clash this Monday at 6:30 on Field 2 in Mercer Park where Hinkson's plays all its games. (Games are played Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.)

Can Hinkson's keep on winning? "I think so," says the 31-year-old Roberto, who owns Hinkson's stationery store on Nassau Street with his father. "I don't know about the undefeated part, but with the exception of Lapidus Market, there's not a team out there who can beat us. We're too strong. I'm not saying that to be boastful and this is not a knock against the other teams.

"It's not a question of them being afraid of us, I just think they get psyched out. I don't know if they freeze up or what; they just can't hit against us."

How Did They Do It?

How did Hinkson's, a team made up of players whose ages fall between 27 and 35, a team that includes a former player for the Milwaukee Braves, a former all-state basketball player and a former all-state golfer, arrive at its position of dominance? After all, sports is filled with examples of teams loaded with individual talent that somehow failed to win.

"We play very, very good defense," began Roberto. "We're good defensively, we don't make a lot of errors, and we're very good on fundamentals. It just comes from playing a long time ... and we have good chemistry. We genuinely like each other. Everybody has a lot of fun ... we have picnics at each other homes ... we're close to one another."

Roberto offered yet another reason. In slow pitch, he said, many will say pitching doesn't count. "But it does. In Mario DeVenczi, we definitely have one of the best." To date this season, DeVenczi has pitched a one-hitter and two shutouts. "That just doesn't happen in slow pitch," said Roberto. At the plate, DeVenczi is batting .420. The former Notre Dame High player also is the team manager — and the team's heart and soul.

Another thing that separates Hinkson's, feels Roberto, is its power at the plate. Said he, "That's one thing that can deflate a team. We have four guys who can take the ball out of the park any time. One team might have one guy who can do that; we have four."

The four: catcher Homer Winbusch, batting .550, eight homers, 25 runs batted in; first baseman Guy Norton, .500 average, 20 RBIs, three homers; outfielder Kelvin Murray, belting the ball at a .600 clip, who has driven in a team-leading 35 runs; and right fielder Len Carella, .500, 25 RBIs, four homers.

It is easy to see where Winbusch gets his power. He is 6-5, 260, a former all-state basketball player from Trenton High. Another Trenton High product is Murray, who just turned 30 and was a recent winner in an event in a 30 and over track meet. He holds, says Roberto, several school track records.

A 1978 graduate at Hightstown High, Carella did not play baseball for the Rams but was an all-state golf champion, according to Roberto. "I think," he smiled, "that's where he gets his sofball swing."

Roberto, who is batting .520; outfielder and first baseman Bob Mangone (.400), a graduate of James Madison University where he played football, and shortstop Jim Whalen, who currently leads the team in hitting with a .610 average, are all 1978 graduates of Notre Dame.

One of two former Princeton High players on the team, left center fielder Bob Zinsmister (1974) was a standout performer in football, wrestling and track for the Little Tigers and was named the school's Most Outstanding Athlete his senior year. Zinsmister is batting .510 for Hinkson's.

Greg Hamer, center right, batting .450, a 1980 graduate of PHS, loved the sport so much that when he was playing third base for former PHS baseball coach Jim O'Neill he would also sneak in playing softball until O'Neill found out about Hamer's extra-curricular play and put a stop to it.

"Unbellevable" Glove

Playing in his first year on the team is John Skorochocki, a former Steinert High player. Batting .440, Skorochocki has "a glove that's unbelievable," says Roberto. "He's an absolute vacuum at third base." Skorochocki, adds Roberto, played for one year for the Milwaukee Brewers in the early 1980s and with Denver in their farm system.

Rounding out the 14-member team are Bud Kleiber, designated hitter and outfielder, batting .410 and a Princeton High graduate; Mario Mangone, a 1979 graduate of Notre Dame, outfield and third base, batting .350, and Jim Mate, who is batting an even .300. Mate is a 1979 graduate of Hamilton High where he was an all-area running back on the football team.

Almost all the members of the team live or work in Princeton, reported Roberto. The other teams look at Hinkson's as 'the Princeton team', he said, although there is another team from Princeton in the league: Cox's Market on Nassau Street.

Victories Reflect Power

The power that Roberto mentioned is reflected in Hinkson's previous three outings. All were lopsided victories: 21-0, 19-1, 17-0. Roberto says, however, that the team has made an effort not to let its success this year go to its head.

To realize what an amazing feat Jose Canseco achieved in big league baseball when he hit 40 homers and stole 40 bases in 1988, look at this... Canseco did something that Willie Mays, Babe Ruth, Mickey Mantle, Hank Aaron and other all-time great players never did... Nobody in the history of major league baseball ever combined 40 homers and 40 stolen bases in a season until Canseco did it.

"We are not a real mouthy team," he said. "If we are beating a team 21-0, we don't say things. We just go out and play our game and get off the field. We try to be as classy as we can. But sometimes it is hard to be when you are beating somebody, 18-0."

Ironically, its success this year may force Hinkson's to leave the league. If a team wins the league championship, it has to, under league rules, move up to the American League, says Roberto.

At the end of regular-season play, there will be a playoff. The top two teams receive a bye and the next four battle each other in one-game playoffs. The two ultimate surviving teams meet in a three-game series to determine the playoff champion.

If he followed the rules of math, even John's playing days would seem to be numbered.

"Seven or eight years ago, before I got married, I played four nights a week and on weekends. When I got married, I played three nights a week," John continued. "When my first child came along I was down to two nights a week." Another one, he reports, is on the way.

Does that mean, then, playing one night a week next year? John smiled and said nothing. He didn't have to. He had answered it earlier when he commented, "I love it."

Come on, kids. We're going to watch Daddy play.

THE RUN STOPS HERE: As Princeton Post 76's Greg Papciak streaks for home, Hopewell Post 339 catcher Mark Szalcyzk is waiting for him with the ball. Broken double steal play cut short a first-inning rally by the Princeton team, as Hopewell went on to hand Post 76 its first loss, 5-3.

Post 76 Loses Its First; Post 218 Is Still Winless

In action last week in the Mercer County American Legion League, the two Princeton teams continued along paths they had taken in the first week of play.

Post 76 lost for the first time Saturday to Hopewell Post 339, but it won its three other starts for a 7-1 record and the league's best average. Hightstown has yet to lose after five games.

Post 218 continues to look for that first win. It held visiting Post 76 to a 1-1 tie after three innings Sunday before Larry Bender's team broke the game open with five runs in both the fifth and seventh innings for a 13-3 triumph. Post 218 manager Tom Parker cited 16-year-old starter Darrin Horangic, who yielded four hits and three runs in the four innings he pitched, for "an excellent performance."

"We're finding some young pitchers who can do a good job for us and be around for a couple of years," said Parker. "The kids are really not down on themselves. If we can eliminate some of the mistakes, some of the mental breakdowns like throwing to the wrong base, we'll be all right. This is a tough league; they don't give you a second chance. But we are definitely going to be much better."

Post 76 is off to its best start ever under Bender, after failing to live up to early-season predictions in past years. Veteran catcher Greg Papciak summed up the feeling of the team this year when he commented, "We're tired of losing."

Bender's formula? "The hitting (Post 76 has been clubbing its opponents into submission with its bats), the pitching has been adequate, taking advantage of every opportunity ... we're just having a good time." Boasted Bender, "There isn't anybody in the league who is going to keep us from hitting."

Post 76 has the averages to substantiate Bender. Before the weekend games, Post 76's Mike Andolina was tied for second among the league's batting leaders with a .529 average. Greg Schwartz, Peter Prodanov, Jason Rizzo and Scott Petrone were all batting .400 or higher, while Matt McClenahan owned a .385 average and Greg Papciack was among the leaders with a .368 effort.

In games this week, Post 76, whose season is already a third over, will host Ewing this Wednesday and Lawrence on Saturday. It will play defending league champion, Broad Street Park, for the second time on Monday in Hamilton.

Post 218 will be at Hamilton Post 31's field this Wednesday at Steinert High, host Ewing on Friday at its Valley Road diamond, and entertain Mitchell Davis on Monday.

Two Big Innings

On Sunday at Valley Road, Post 76 solved Post 218 reliever Dan Wilson early, tagging Wilson for five runs in the fifth and five more two innings later. McClenahan, Petrone, Paul Pearlman and DH Nick Hsieh all had two hits for Post 76, Hsieh and centerfielder Sharif Aboelnaga ripping triples. For the second game in a row, Post 76 had to play without Prodanov, who was away at a camp.

Scott Lord went the distance for Post 76 to pick up his third win without a loss. He fanned eight and walked one.

The previous day, Post 76 faced Hopewell in Pennington. Although Post 76 came into the game with a 6-0 record, Bender was cautious. "This team always gives us trouble," he said."

Post 76 wasted no time in trying to make it seven in a row. It scored two runs in the first against Hopewell, marking the sixth time in seven games Post 76 had scored in the opening frame. It should have been more.

McClenahan greeted Hopewell hurler Mike Vogler by roping a leadoff single. Petrone followed with a blast to deep center that carried for a triple. Greg Papciack singled home

Petrone. Three batters and Post 76 had two runs and looked as if it were just warming up.

———

Greg Schwartz worked Vogler for a walk. Andolina was safe at first when Hopewell was unable to convert his grounder in a double play. After Pearlman got on, Bender tried a delayed steal but the play fizzled. Pearlman was tagged out at second and Papciack was caught at home.

After Hopewell scored an unearned run in the first, Post 76 had two runners on again in the third, off second hits by McClenahan and Petrone, but the team came up empty when another double steal attempt misfired and a runner was caught in a rundown between third and second for the final out.

Hopewell erased a 3-1 Post 76 lead in the eighth with three runs, combining an RBI double by Mark Gola for the tying run and a bases-loaded single by Hopewell catcher Mark Szalcyzk for the go-ahead run. A passed ball sent home the third run.

Despite a sore back, Shawn Murphy started for Post 76 and lasted seven innings in the sun and heat. Andolina, who came on in the eighth, was tagged with the loss. Vogler, after his shaky start, limited the hard-hitting Princeton team to just four hits after the first inning and struck out six to pick up his second win against one loss.

Two days earlier, Post 76, turned to pitching to defeat defending league champion Broad Street Park, 6-1. Prodanov had slammed the door for six innings, allowing only two hits until he ran into trouble in the seventh. A walk, a two-out single and an error loaded the bases. After another single scored BSP's only run, Bender brought in Andolina who got the final out.

McClenahan had three of Post 76's seven hits off losing hurler Joe Keane. Post 76 bunched three of its runs in the fifth to stake Prodanov to a 5-0 lead. "We had timely hits this time," said Bender.

Post 76 began the week by ripping Bordentown, 12-3, and Trenton Post 93, 13-5. Against Bordentown, Post 76 went 5-2-2-3 in the first four innings, banging out 12 hits, including two each by Prodanov, Papciack and Rizzo. Jeff Skalinski (five innings, five strikeouts) got the easy win.

Against Trenton, Post 76 scored in every one of the first five innings. Greg Papciack homered and singled and drove in four runs in the win.

We Made It Exciting

"Actually, it was a pretty good game. The guys are looking better," said Parker of Post 218's loss to Post 76. "It was close for four innings.

"The guys did a great job. We did make a couple of errors, but we played them real tough. I think we kind of surprised them. We made it exciting."

Matt Baum had two of the four hits collected by the losers. Shortstop Paul Procaccini and centerfielder Ben Stentz had the other two.

Two hits by Procaccini were about all Post 218 could point to the previous day in a 19-2 loss to Bordentown. Visiting Bordentown led 2-0 after one inning and 11-0 after two. Baum, the first of four Post 218 hurlers, departed in the second and was the loser.

Still earlier, Post 218 had scored four runs without getting a hit but lost, 13-4, to Lawrence as Post 414 hurler Mark Polakowski tossed a six-inning no-hitter. Polakowski lost his shutout in the first inning when Post 218 loaded the bases on a walk, hit batsman and error, and scored two runs on another error. The former Lawrence High hurler fanned seven but walked four, two of his walks coming with the bases loaded.

Post 218 began the week with a 10-3 loss to Hightstown.

Back-to-Back Shutouts For Ficarro's Sprague

The Princeton-based Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team maintained its share of second place in the Mercer County Women's League last week by improving its record to 12-2 following identical 8-0 shutouts over fourth-place Trenton Orthopedic and the Misfits. Karen Sprague was the winning pitcher in both games, throwing a three-hitter in each contest.

Next for Ficarro's is a key game Thursday against league-leading Three Seasons. In a previous meeting this season, Three Seasons edged Ficarro's by a single run. The game will be played at 8:30 on Field 3 in Mercer Park.

In the game against Trenton Orthopedic, Ficarro's scored all its runs, with two outs in the top of the fourth inning, as the team sent 14 batters to the plate. Leadoff batter Cindy Lombardo (4-for-4 overall) singled, was forced at second, and Debbie Smyth reached on a fielder's choice and was also forced at second. Grace Durland reached on a fielder's choice, advanced on an error, and was driven in on a Donna Nicholson single. Beth Ault singled, and Bip Romanchuk drove in Nicholson with a base hit.

Sprague reached on an error, which scored Ault and Romanchuk. Cee Aerstin singled, driving in Sprague, and Charlotte Damasco reached on an error. Anne Van Thuyne drove in Aerstin and Damasco with a single, and Lombardo, in her second plate appearance of the inning, drove in Van Thuyne.

Against the Misfits, Ficarro's pounded out 17 hits and scored in all but one inning. Leading the hitting were Ault (3-for-3), and Smyth, Van Thuyne, and Trisha Kane (all 2-for-3). Alison Aaron also contributed with an opposite field double, that drove in two runs. Defensively, Diane Kelly at third

Regular Season Ends In Youth Baseball League

Playoffs are under way in the Princeton Youth Baseball League this week.

In the final week of regular season play in the PYBA's majors, ORB defeated Post 76, 14-3, and 9-5 over a three-day period. In the first game, ORB sent ten batters to the plate in the first inning and scored four runs on hits by Scott Mauney and Matt Zisler. In the fifth, the victors put the game out of reach with seven more runs on only two hits, as ORB had just five for the entire contest.

ORB pitcher Mauney, brought in by manager Alain Kornhauser in the first when Post 78 had loaded the bases with no outs, proceeded to retire eleven 76 batters in three innings. Morgan Battle drove in two runs with a single and Tom Ratliff had an RBI single for Post 76's only hits.

In their second meeting, Post 76 could not hold a 2-0 first inning lead. With the scored tied at 2 in the second, Mauney connected for a grand slam to give ORB a lead it would never relinquish. Later in the game, Zisler hit a two-run homer for insurance runs.

Courtney Nolan hit the ball hard twice and scored a run in the third for Post 78, while David Smith played a fine defensive game for losers with four assists.

PIAS hammered Engine No. 1, 14-1. Steven Rice hit a grand slam and Joris Drayer also homered for the victors. Also contributing were David Panitz who doubled and drove in two runs, Bailey Russel who had a double and Seth Adler who had an RBI single. Drayer, the winning pitcher, allowed two hits and struck out 12 in six innings; Chris Prevost pitched the last four for Engine No. 1, striking out four, walking two and allowing three hits.

In a continuation of a game started May 30, Post 76 outlasted the Elks, 10-8.

Post 76 loaded the bases in the eighth and scored two runs but the rally was cut short when Elk third baseman Oliver Sissman snared Caley Schmierer's line drive and turned it into a double play. The Elks battled back in the eighth for two runs off consecutive singles by Zack David, Jack Paczosa and Mike Hudley.

In the ninth inning in this seesaw battle, Post 78's David Frank singled home Dan Ratliff for the winning run. The victors added an insurance run when Nick Skover's perfectly-executed suicide squeeze scored Max Wright.

The Elks were not finished, however. They gave Post 76 a scare when they loaded the bases in the bottom of the ninth with no outs. The Post 76 defense rose to the challenge. Walker Wright threw out a runner at home and, Dave Frank made a diving catch of a pop fly at third for the second out. The game ended with Richard Wright snagging a line drive in the hole at short.

START THEM WHEN THEY'RE YOUNG: Michael Mindlin (left) and Andrew Jennings, are members of the Princeton Rotary team in the Instructional League for players 6-8 years old.

BETTER THAN A HOUSE — BETTER THAN A CONDOMINIUM — this traditional all brick, Matthews built traditional house within walking distance of town, train and campus, was once part of the Pyne Estate. With its slate roof, plaster walls, hardwood floors and other special features, it's a perfect house for a small family who wants their very own piece of property without too much house to run. Both the living room and cathedral height family room have fireplaces and both family room and large dining room overlook a wonderful terrace surrounded by perfect lawns and plantings. With one large bedroom, bath and closet on the first floor, another large bedroom with bath and walk-in-closet on the second floor, plus full basement and oversized 2-car garage where you'll never bump your car, it is a dream — in Princeton. $379,000
